

Letter to Alyssa dated 30 April 2017

Hey Alyssa,

Thought you'd be interested in the post accompanying this letter, as it concerns psychology & solitary confinement. Appreciate it if you like & share it on your facebook page.

A "buddy" was supposed to set up a facebook page for me — Prometheus_Writes! — to point people to this blog. But, he showed what a buddy he was, vanished. Others are going to set it up though. There'll be stuff on it I'm not allowed to post on this blog

As for my I-thought-close friend, Archelle, she finally got at me, two sentences: got a b.f., will return your stuff (legal docs, essays, art I asked her to safekeep), won't be writing anymore. Been... 2 months, still haven't received my stuff back, only copies for some of it. Irk some; gotta vet people better, I guess.

Other than that, I'm busy as hel w/ litigation & such.

Hope you're well,
Nate.
