

"A Place"

There's a place for every thing
A concept God set in motion
The Birds surrender to the trees
Trying to nest out of sight
Wolves stake out a place
ON the open forest floor
People cuddle within their homes
Enjoying their little comforts
Even troops of ants set up camp
But where does God rest his head
Perhaps he does not sleep
