Hello Alyssa,

Thank you for your kind words and thought provoking questions. I may write a blog or two with them in mind. However, I must filter my expressions on the internet to avoid making comments which are inappropriate for some readers.

I am open to communicating with you privately on the subjects you proposed. If it is an avenue you wish to pursue, I recommend that you obtain a PO BOX at which bloggers can contact you. Then write to me at my current address if it appeals to you. I will respond.

Sincerely,
