Noble Erne ~

I AM blessed to see this day when there first begins Olympian SPO-T Games, on-line in cyberspace. Games to establish conditions of existence for us in exile; Rely upon "A-to-B postulates". Indeed, my dear Valkyrie, indeed! A Supreme test of atonement ("At One Mert"), I see you aptly interpret by syl-la-ble. Well done ! And yes, "maybe's" do pose problems, don't they? In tech terms, 1. simply a counter-balance insistence on must and must not. It is and it is not. And these things equally, insistent add up into the indecisions of Maybe. 2. a Maybe is a double flow or a contro-version to such a degree that an individual is hung up on it. 3. a confusion of being-ness, a confusion of doingness, and a confusion of havingness, and it's too badly balanced to resolve itself. 4. neither no nor yes.

Okay, so if this is the first test, in re: My parole-ability/eligibility, let me say here now that I'm not confused by merchants of chaos stratagems which overwhelm with uncertainty. I HAVE developed a counterbalance Certainty which affirms I AM responsible and "at one" with whatever scenario presents itself ~ solely in Present Time! The best case scenario at this time, makes me eligible for parole on my 60th birthday ~ six years away from Present Time, you see? I'm really not worried about that day six years hence! Especially considering I have much to do, I DO; here now toward creating a better future for others. I'm confident that my future will take care of itself, according to Matt. 6:34.

Yes, thank you for your vote though; "I believe"; "I believe": "you've earned to be paroled / you can do much to help — when you get out of MCSP". I agree of course, yet there is still much I can do from here-now: To inspire Pendragon Legends! Your 3 May message sez: "I look forward to the day I see you in prison [sic] and shake your hand..." Sweet! I'm attaching a Form which must be approved first before you make the trip though — unless that was a typo . It is a part of my A-to-B postulate for SPO-Terminals to visit, and process aspirants by gradient, but that requires you bring in a friend too — sort of as a sentinel. Hopefully this double-sided visiting form can be printed-out off this site as often as necessary — in which case I'm leaving the date blank... to be added by the applicant, okay?

"Keep your eyes on the Mountain"? hmmm. I AM a Mount'in Man, I AM! Okay; Isa 40 comes to mind as I set out and begin to sing Verse 31 they shall mount up with wings as eagles . Fortunate for me I've recently received Centrum Silver multivitamin/multimineral Supplements, so let's giddap! As the focal point of an area, mountain peaks symbolize the bounds of human development and the psychic function of the supra conscious which is, in fact, to lead man-kind to the peak of its development. So with eyes on the mountain peak; giddap! For the Love of Truth.
