- LOVE THAT DIRTY WATER / NORFOLK YOUR MY HOME / GLOBE INVOLVED

Well the Pinnocchio nose of our illustrious superintendent here at WallyWorld, The Big Chirice, just grew a few more inches when he proclaimed that the water here was "safe" and that no further discussion was needed. Well he is out of the discussion, that is for sure, but David Abel of The Boston Globe was here to "discuss" the water and other issues on Tuesday, May 23, 2017. Now the Media Nazi of the DOC, Chris Fear-On, denied Reporter Abel's requests to meet with us in his professional capacity, but they could not stop him from coming to see the Free Speech Warrior on a personal visit. We let him know about dogs getting water in bottles when the human beings were forced to drink sludge. We let him know about the "promise" of a new filtration plant, which is "on hold" again (Oh, you forgot to tell us that Big Chirice). We let him know about the eroding pipes which plave metal fragments in our water. We let him know what we knew he needed to know and what the DOC/WallyWorld has tried to suppress us from telling him. He IS doing a story and it WILL appear in the Globe this week; the POWER OF "FREE SPEECH" in PRISON!!! I also let Mr. Abel know about the failures in reentry - boy have I got them on that debaucle - as well as some of the issues with lifers and long-termers. More to come, trust me, but the bottom line is that the DOC wanted to silence our free speech but was fully unsuccessful. They (the oxygen wasters wearing that tarnished DOC badge) love that dirty water here at NorfolkWorld, but this place is NOT our home and we won't let them abuse us any further if we can help it. Sadistic bastards drink their bottled spring water laughing at us drinking dirty brown sludge; they are the devil! We will expose their evil, we will shout their abuse from the highest rooftop, and we will fight this fight from the street very soon! Scary Sherry needs to be fired. The Big Chirice needs to lose that fat pension. Captain Ragu needs to drop that candy bar!

- THE GREEN CHICKENHEAD RECRUITED FOR SHAKE-DOWN CZAR OF DOC

After the stellar job our illustrious Food Services Director did shaking down a cell for "illegal food products" in the Lifers' Block (you can't make this shit up), good ole Tommy T., the Commissioner of Corruption, has recruited him to be the official DOC "Shake-Down Czar", where he will put on his Saturday-Night-Goin'-Dancin' knee pads (left over from his John Travolta crush days) and be charged with going from facility to facility searching for high calorie pizzas, trans-fat calzones, and super-glutan cheesecakes. The Commish was going to have him search for all beef hot dogs but was afraid he would have to go out on Industrial Accident pay after choking on the unchewed sausages. Old habits are hard to break. He can also wear his Navy Petty Officer (and believe me he is petty) uniform while conducting his duties!

More To Come...
