the question is
during the quietness
moments of time
in a 5x10 cell
like dead leaves
dancing with the wind
I keep silent
least they think
I'm just another
crazy old man
I've omitted a lot
of lifes details
all my familiars
the one constant
I can find
in my thoughts
deep with me
the true love
we've always shared

dreaming of you
through the nights
the long days
this fleeting existence
every dark morning
I wake up
holding you tightly
in my arms
holding the thought
of your love
in my heart
forever & ever

We have our grandparents for 10 or 20 year, our parents for 50 or 60 years, our brothers and sisters for 68+ years. After 50 years friends are family - these are the only people who remember our childhood. If you have nothing to do with them it's a tragic. Family forgone. (forget where I read this).
