Dear Kat3005,

hi, I received your brief response and I wanted to know what you thought of my blog? I wrote about the prison system taking away our family day picnics and I had hope to learn how free people felt about this, so please feel free to comment. A lot of people don't understand why we need this, why it is so important to prisoners so this is my way of explaining it to them. So the next time you decide to comment, please ask em something. I have met some amazing people on this site and though some move on in their lives and we lose touch, that doesn't take away from the fact that I met good people who have influenced my life. I am going to update my page on my blog with a new photo soon. I am swamped with learning how to file a brief, it is definitely beyond my expertise, and with both of my parents being terminally ill from cancer, well life just doesn't seem to give many breaks. My dad is doing his bucket list, my mom is on an oxygen tank & can't be out in the summer so she won't be able to do a bucket list. I began to wonder why they call it a bucket list. But losing your parents is the hardest thing I have yet to face in my life. I have lost people I love so very much but mom & dad is the hardest.

Well Kat3005, I am going to run, I have 1 more comment to respond to and I have to go to work early today. Gotta earn my $1 for 5 hours of work. Better than nothing but yes, I am still complaining. Take care, please feel free to drop me a line, send me an e-mail @ connectnetwork.com or just send me some comments on this blog. I always enjoy meeting new people. God Bless, ciao.
