RE: WILLIAM GOEHLER (K-77832)

I am not sure if the attached testimonials are already in Mr. Goehler's file, but wanted to make sure they were available for review; so please excuse me if this is duplicative.

The attached "Success Stories" show just some of the very tangible results of the program which Mr. William Goehler (K-77832) was responsible for bringing into Mule Creek State Prison. Without his help and work these wins would not have occurred. He is directly responsible for helping others.

HAPPINESS IS WHAT GIVES MEANING TO OUR LIVES. - ARISTOTLE.

HAPPINESS is - the overcoming of not unknowable obstacles toward a known goal.
HAPPINESS is a word which states a condition - and the anatomy of that condition is Interest.

INTEREST of course can be defined as: Attention with an intention to give or attract attention.

Finding Scientology in my Grail Quest for Truth, made this life of mine a life of adventure. A life I Understand.

Being a Scientologist means I AM able to do something to improve the world now and for future generations.

As an eternal entity, I AM able to cognize appropriate gradients of necessity level impingements to compel Cause in my zone of influence.

LRH has helped develop my Understanding and Ability; TO BE, Cause of Effects, to ward the greatest good for the greatest number of dynamics.

A civilization without insanity, without criminals and without war, in the technical sense, is a beautiful ambition I admire so much so that I've dared initiate a Scientology Prison Outreach (SPO) to minister the rudiments of Knowing how to Know - the science of life - in order to reverse the rampant dwindling spiral and restore self-determined responsibility.

The number of WIN<sup>s</sup> this ennobling SPO has generated makes me happy knowing their adventure of LIFE will spark the interest of others in their zone of influence.

These wins are written by inmates of the facility as follows:

L. Ron Hubbard
Components of Understanding

Δ What is the ARC Triangle? How does it apply to me?

The abbreviation of the ARC Triangle represents:

Affinity

Reality

Communication

*Affinity is defined as "a degree of liking or an emotional attitude towards a person(s), animals, or any objects animate or inanimate." The basic definition of affinity is the consideration of distance whether good or bad. The basic function of complete affinity would be the ability to occupy the same space as something else.

*Reality is defined as "that which appears to be." Reality is basically an agreement. What we agree to be real is real.

*Communication is defined as "a shift of particles from one space to another."
Communication is broken into four categories. By way of objects, by way of written messages, by way of spoken words and finally by way of ideas.

In order for this technology to operate at full capacity, two of the three points must be established. Any point of the ARC Triangle can be established without priority. The most important point to consider is communication, because communication is the key to solve all, if not most problems. If these points can be achieved, it would approach the true meaning of understanding.

This technology is valuable and can be applied to any aspect of life. Here are a few examples of how it applies to me.

Example #1

There was this guy who was angry about something or about someone. I could tell that he was angry because his body language was tense and his demeanor was hostile. He kept mumbling and appeared to be agitated. How do I communicate with him? Without having my communication being shunned or possibly ignored. I had to reason with myself trying to understand his frame of mind. I am thinking, this probably wouldn't be a good time to approach this man given that 1) he may be unstable and might direct his anger towards me, 2) he might behave irrationally and become extremely prone to violence. These conditions are dangerous. However I know this individual can be approached if I apply the technology correctly. I took the challenge and decided to confront him.

The first step I took was to examine the symptoms and state of obvious. He is angry. The next step was to validate that anger by feeding into that person's reality. By acknowledging his anger, I had created a duplication of that reality by simply agreeing with him. By doing this, it helped me develop the first point of the ARC Triangle. Since we have come to an agreement about his sense of anger, I was able to close the distance between me and him. Soon thereafter, we automatically developed a liking towards one another and made it possible for us to communicate. Hence affinity was born and our communication line connected. He had expressed to me about how he felt and what caused him to be in that state. I offered a few suggestions and he began to settle down and his emotional tone changed.

In conclusion, I was able to solve not only his problems, but I had redirected a new course of action and prevented him from doing the unthinkable. He had regained control of himself. The ARC is useful. As you can see from the start; all three points were established and as a result, it had heightened our understanding of the situation and gave us the ability to resolve it.

There was this lady who always acknowledged me every time she sees me. I really have no idea who she was. I didn't really know exactly what to say. After all, she was a total stranger and yet she appeared to be very nice in character. The situation made me perplexed. The problem was my inability to communicate. However, communication was not impossible.

I began to apply ARC to see if I could raise the level of our understanding.

The first step I took was stating the obvious. She's nice. I also notice she carries books with her, telling me she likes to read. I stopped her one day to casually converse with her. I discovered she is into philosophy, judging by the books she appears to be reading. She was very receptive to philosophical ideas and we went into great length in our discussion. Our communication had heightened, and I realized affinity and reality were created simultaneously, so it had worked out perfectly.

As a result, we developed a good rapport with one another and became friends.

In conclusion, to this report, the components of understanding require the ARC concept to formulate. I know beyond a reasonable doubt that this technology works. With this realization, I know how effective it can be to improve conditions and start new relations. I am happy with my findings thanks to this technology.

Success

Since I've been studying the materials provided, I've had a number of experiences (which I know are also termed "wins") which have really opened my eyes to the manner in which they are applied because not only does it make so much sense that it falls in line with what I already know to be my reality but also takes a very scientific approach into describing facets of life I already semi-understand or in other cases was confused about. Each of these experiences has had a clear moment of eye opening bliss. I'd like to recount some wins for your benefit.

1) Through the last 20 years I've experienced many coincidences that seemed to be extremely mysterious in their astronomical improbability. I constantly tried to make a connection in my mind to how I experienced so many and the feeling of vast enormity that I get from them. Sometimes I wondered if it meant something, most times I figured I was just lucky to experience them, a minute confluence of events in a giant stream of uncontrollable MEST (The Physical Universe).

The week before I began my studies into Scientology, I heard of a specific scientific theory that touches on just a part of this phenomenon I refer to. It speaks of the awareness of a thing being present very soon after you initially learn of it. Well, I began my studies very soon after and this subject was brought up which was in accordance with what the theory explains. However, I also learn it is one facet of the phenomenon called synchronicity. This is a huge win for me because it is something I've wondered about for many many years and was brought up for consideration just days prior to learning about it and learning that I could learn more about it.

2) On the same subject of synchronicity: on the same day I began using the book Self Analysis; I had been earlier ruminating on how my physical reaction time has suffered and how the biggest pet-peeve I have is forgetting something that I put in the time and effort to learn. I began the book and within the very first few pages of the book that I decided to read the same day I had these ruminations, it explains that it can help both of these things.

Win, Win, Win!

The other day, someone put something on my door that was intended as a symbolic insult. Upon discovering the item, I initially became angry. I thought about confronting the person about what he did, and expressing my anger. However, I was able to reframe the situation by letting my anger subside. Thus, instead of confronting him angrily, I decided to roll with the joke and laugh with the person about it instead of reacting in anger. I consider my behavior a win because I was able to overcome a seemingly impossible bout of anger.

Today, I went back to work after two weeks off. Prior to my vacation, I had gotten into an altercation with a coworker that was personal. I was unable to separate my personal emotions from my professional obligations, and as a result I'd been acting unfairly toward people. After determining to maintain my professionalism, I went back to work and was able to work and act professional. I consider my conduct to be a win because I worked hard to put my emotions aside and be professional.

--AF

After reading about the ARC Triangle, I've been able to reconsider things like my own conflicts and communications as well as other people's interactions, sort of reframing them in terms of affinity, communication and a new concept of "reality" to understand where things might have gone wrong and how they could go better. It's been pretty useful, I think.

MULE CREEK

The VM went in and spent about 3 hours with inmates. Chaplain Max S. was not there so he was Escorted in by Imam Younus.

7 people showed up.

They did TRs. OT TR0, TR0 and TR0 Bullbait.

The inmate "Hungry" went exterior while doing OT TR0 bullbait. He could see the back of his head, could look at the person doing TRs with him, move around his head, etc. Then he went back into his head and couldn't see. He was wondering if this was ok and whether he was avoiding confronting by doing this.

One new guy came. Wanted to handle his GED.

"Whispers" didn't come today because someone was saying that he was the only person interested in Scientology and he wanted to prove that it wasn't just him.

Anthony said that he had wins. Anthony has come a few times but wasn't getting any wins and so it was good that this time he had wins doing TRs.

The inmates are talking about organizing up to open up on Friday's as well.

They will be doing more TRs next week and need to get Alice In Wonderland books in there fast so that they don't get stopped at TR1. Everyone is going to bring one person with them new to the group next week. They are also going to print up flyers to use as promotion.

The Tone Scale

What is the Tone Scale?

The Tone Scale is a vital tool for any aspect of life involving one's fellows. It is a scale which shows the successive emotional tone a person can experience. By "Tone" is meant the momentary or continuing emotional state of a person. Emotions such as fear, anger, grief, enthusiasm and others which people experience are shown on this graduated scale.

Here are various common levels of a persons tone scale.

- 4.0 Enthusiasm
- 3.5 Cheerfulness
- 3.0 ~~Consent~~ Conservatism
- 2.8 Contented
- 2.5 Boredom
- 2.0 Antagonism
- 1.5 Anger
- 1.0 Fear
- 0.5 Grief
- 0.5 Apathy.

Look around and maybe you can identify someone on this Tone Scale. However there is another chart to describe the Tone Scale in Full. I will only discuss this particular scale, because it will make it much easier to recognize a persons condition, given what I know about the Tone Scale, that I've just mentioned.

Again it is a useful tool to help predict the characteristics and behavior of a person. How do we use this Technology?

What I discovered is that it takes skills to recognize a person's position on the scale. This skill is called "The art of observation." There is a phrase in Scientology that assist us in our pursuit of this knowledge in correlation to the Tone Scale. That Phrase is "Obnois."

What does obnois mean? The word is defined as observing the obvious: To look at the isness of something. At what is actually there. No guesses, No assumptions, No conjectures or deductive reasoning.

There are many reasons as to why a person's Tone Scale can fluctuate from one level to another. These reasons are based upon a number of factors. Such as.

- A person's attitude towards life.
- How well that person handles good and bad news.
- A person's ability to interact and communicate with people and to the environment
- A person's ability to handle what is happening to them or around them.

People's emotional tone scale can descend for a short period of time. It can also descend for an indefinite period of time and remains fixed or constant at that level for years upon years, without a person really knowing why that person's been feeling that way. Does this sound familiar to anyone?

There is a symptom know for this behavior. It's a chronic Tone Scale. Everyone here on this Earth has a chronic Tone Scale.

∴ The art of observation, or obrosis, can help us look for clues or symptoms. Symptoms such as: Body language, facial expression and communication. If we can detect any symptoms, we can be selective about helping out by treating that person accordingly to the Technology. By lifting people up on the Tone Scale. One gradient at a time. It will become apparent that the persons condition had changed for the better. Once you see good indicators, it shows that the tech. is working.

What is the Hubbard Chart of Human Evaluation?
The H.B.C. if H.E. can help us evaluate human behavior and predict what a person will do. The chart displays the degree of Ethics, Responsibility, persistence on a given course, handling of truth and other identifying aspects of a person along the various level of the Tone Scale.
How this chart is used? For Example. If my Tone Scale is, rephrase, chronic Tone Scale, I would say it is generally at conservatism. My numerical value is 3.0. With this knowledge. I would review the H.B.C. of H.E. and locate my constant emotion and examine the various column displaying my capabilities all along the levels of Conservatism. What I discovered on the chart is that it is very accurate in terms of what I've be exhibiting. For instance: My drive for success has never been more alluring. My sense of responsibility is fully understood. I know what needs to be done to serve one or all my dynamics. My sense of Ethics is quite high. I have standards - code of conduct - attitude and decorum.

Greetings and Salutation: Joe

Thank-you for your acknowledgment.

△ Communication between two people, whether known or complete stranger, requires the other person to be there. (1) Given our present time situation I am currently in Prison and on the other hand you are not. So how can communication become possible, if your presence is not physically there?
No worries!

The physical dimension of this reality makes it appear as if we cannot Be There in this same space or in this present time. However, nothing is impossible in terms of to Be There.

Be There means if you are able to sit quietly somewhere in a comfortable position <sup>without any distraction</sup> while you are reading this letter. If you are <sup>or present time</sup> able to do that, then that would approach the true meaning of Being there. I am sure you have that ability.

I'd like to share briefly with you how much it is that I've learned <sup>throughout my</sup> ~~while~~ studying the technology. I am not studying to know. I am studying to apply what it is that I know. Which is a significant difference. Studying to know and not applying what I know is a "theoretical philosophy." Studying to know and applying what I know is a "practical philosophy."

So I am actively practicing Scientology.

The materials that you have provided was't given in vain. The technology has greatly enhance my abilities to learn, it has help me better understand my conditions and allowed me to communicate effectively. The best part in all of this is that it gave me the ability to help people, to help them solve their own problems and based upon these reason I have concluded that Scientology is true. a working.

I am extremely happy. Thank you so much for your support.

Here are some of the books that I've read by L. Ron Hubbard.

- The basic study manual.
- The fundamentals of thought
- A new slant on life
- The Scientology Handbook.
- Dear Alice.

I am currently on Self Analysis. I'll develop my findings and prepare a report once I am done with the book.

My activities on Scientology has been enormous. If I were to explain and give examples of on all that I've learn. The data on this letter would be very immense and it will take a tremendous amount of time for you to process. So I will briefly mention all my wins and have "Whisper" validate what I am saying. Attached to this letter is one example of my win report. You may review it and determine for yourself about my position.

But here is what I know and what I've learn. I know about the Dynamics of Existence and how it effects me and everyone and everything around me.

I know the components of understanding. Which consist of three things. A.R.C. and communication is most important. The A.R.C. triangle is applied to everything. I have the ability to read into people's Tone Scale marks and make a diagnosis of their symptoms and treat people according to the Hubbard Chart of Human Evaluation and lift up people's tone scale. I can determine and predict technology. I also know about communication, what it is and how it's done by understanding the formula and cycle of action.

Cause, Distance, Effect + Intention. Attention + Duplication and understanding.

I can apply the Training Routine and develop good communication. I would love to demonstrate and give examples to all my work.

To conclude this letter, I must give credit to "Whisper" He has done the most in terms of establishing a foundation for Scientology to ~~exist~~ exist and keeping it working. Had it not been for his Self Determinism. I would have remained a mindless drone. Deaf, Dumb and blind. He has merit and deserves to be recognized.

I understand how important it is that I become rehabilitated and become a decent homo novis. I want to help and restore the beauty of our creation.

With this said. I leave you with complete Senerity.

Sincerely
Johnny Chanthavong

L. Ron Hubbard.

The Technology of Study.

I've used this technology to help students improve their learning abilities.

For example:

I am a tutor in the V.E.P class of this prison. (Mule Creek State Prison.) I was approached by two students who were having difficulties understand fractions. To my surprise, they have been studying how to do fractions for an entire year and hasn't understood what a fraction is.

I began using the study technology. The obstacle of learning is when someone knows it all. The barriers of learning is: Lack of mass, too steep of a gradient, a misunderstood word.

I began teaching by having them understanding what a fraction is. We looked up the dictionary and cleared the word. I then ask them to show me what a fraction looks like and they showed me. I began teaching how to add, subtract, multiply and divide fractions.

In a matter of two days. Both students knows how to do fractions based upon this study technology.

MY Experience with the Basic Study Manual

The Scientology Basic Study Manual has worked wonders for me! As someone who has read a fair amount of books, I thought that my study habits and methods of approach when it comes to acquiring knowledge were good enough; but the Scientology Basic Study Manual taught me to slow down and be more thorough in my approach to studying.

At first, I looked at the Manual, with its illustrations and simple language, and thought that I was too advanced a learner to ~~extract~~<sup>gain</sup> anything out of it. How wrong I was! Learning the "Barriers to Study" - Having an absense of mass, and too steep a gradient - has helped me understand why, in the past, I have learned some subjects that I've studied better than others. And every time I thought of an instance in which I did not grasp a topic, it was because I either didn't have a hands-on way to demonstrate or view what I was reading about (an absense of mass), or I ~~tried~~<sup>tried</sup> to learn too much too quick! and would get ahead of my own ability to grasp the material that I was trying to study (Too steep a gradient)

Learning such basic skills as the use of a dictionary is of infinite use, to both the beginner and the advanced learner. For the beginner, the Basic Study Manual provides a valuable and useful starting point that is easy, straightforward, and helpful. For the "advanced learner," the Manual provides a greatly articulated reminder of the importance of looking up and "clearing" (misunderstood) words.

The Basic Study Manual has been of great use to me, and I am thankful to have had the chance to read it.

Wins

I suppose the primary "win" that I've achieved has been that I originally set out to support Whispers' vision of establishing an active Scientology-based group on this prison yard, and by coming to the group when I could, and encouraging others to visit as well, I've done my part in helping this effort survive here. With luck, some of the more frequent attendees will even get a good deal of personal benefit from learning Scientology's techniques and perspectives, and those whose main goal is to be "audited" and perhaps progress toward "clearness" will finally have that opportunity, even in such a severely restricted environment as a prison.

I set out to accomplish something, and I did as I'd hoped to do. So that, I suppose, is a "win".
