Thanks for responding to my poem. I actually forgot I had all these poems on this web site I guess I gotta start posting more of my thoughts. Hell nah prison ain't nothing like the movies but the drama that goes down is worth a reality T.V. show. It's so severe there would be a high response. There's no privacy, eh here. You kinda get use to being naked and spreading. It's kinda like being a stripper with all eyes on you except you're not trying to be sexy at all. It's degrading and humiliating yet, you get use to it. You got some good guards, some bad but on this unit. Were pretty much blessed cuz it's layed back. Every once in a while they trip. I can go more into detail if you want me too. The inmates almost all suck. It's like prison has its own character. This place is negative. But you have a few that stand out. It's like the prison is a current and almost every one goes with the flow but the few strong women go against the current and those are the ones that still have a sense of dignity and integrity. Ok well I hope you do respond to my mail. It really was nice hearing from you. Sincerely Misty

Speaking My Mind

What's going on out there world? Now why the flip did y'all vote for Donald Trump? I know, I know y'all felt like y'all was in between a rock and a hard place. I feel y'all. Two sucky choices. Hillary or Donald, so y'all picked the best one out of 2 evils. Hmm... I miss Ronald Reagan. I do agree with shutting our borders to the east. Man they come over here and blow us up but then again were the dumb asses that let them in. We need to let Mexicans in and work. They make a honest living and support there families. The Cartel has more casualties than ISIS. Give Mexicans a Asylum. you dont believe me, study the numbers. The world is crazy. Where do you stand now all this.....
