9-20-17 Are you still here? I need to know I'm not alone here on this big blue planet. ♡

I realize now that where I want to be is where I already was. Now I need to find my way back there. :-

The road to happiness is always under construction, so we find ourselves taking many detours. ♡

Going crazy, no, I've been crazy for a long time, I've gone mad now is what I've gone :-

Sometimes, when I look for my glasses while wearing them, I think, "My, my it's going to be a very smooth transition into dementia" :-

① Create a to-do list ② Write backward with my weaker hand ③ Take a slow day, in which I do everything at half speed ④ Keep a journal ⑤ Question everything like a child, ask why incessantly ⑥ Hold you in my heart forever.

'For a split-second of eternity'; my dreams are always of you. I believe you my love - I know without a doubt that we'll be together in the rest of eternity - were you are you, I am me, you and me are always we. ⑦

Who am I? I am friendly, compassionate, intelligent.

But I am also worried, confused, alone. Where are we?

They wouldn't let me in the Mensa club for geniuses so I joined Densa :-

I miss my brothers James + Tim Happy Birthday
"Hello darkness my old friend"

I see you always - in everything - you observe and accompany my darkest despair, my wildest sorrow, and my most unexpected joy. ⑧
