

Poem

Ultimate Solitary Confinement

9-21-17

Dream

throughout the day
 friend + family came stood by my cell
 they talked about the old days
 the good times
 they told me
 they loved me
 how good I looked
 I saw pain
 in their hearts
 tears in their eyes.

Truth

I'm here forever
 like a macabre scene
 in a horror movie
 I'll never go home
 or be free
 or kiss my love
 I'll die here alone in my prison cell
 without forgiveness
 lost in darkness
 without love
 family or friend

Ultimate solitary confinement. Steve Burkett 8-26-17

I've been working on getting ready for the pier 5 art show.

I will try to blog more often after this week but it's hard when you hear nothing back.

I believe it was you who told me I was the most handsome man in the world (Maybe it was Mel :) you told me I was your best friend and the love of your life (or was that Cat :) I know you loved every chance you got to show me off and make the rest of the world jealous (or was that Bonnie :) you always wanted me to look the part of the most handsome man.
 (Now that was my Jeannie :) (❤))