"Fax Vobiscum"

Never fear what tomorrow may or may not bring - for it in itself is only a fantasy, a dream hoped for, yet never seen.

Hail Unto thee O Mother of Heaven & Earth, Beloved Mother of House, Beloved Wife of Osiris Hail Unto thee, thou Beautiful and luminous Queen!

Do ~~as~~ what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law.

* Gracious & Humble Greetings to all Gods & Goddesses! *

All are Divine Beings, thus I address and greet all as such.

I know not if my poems or writings are read oft (or) ever liked for that matter - Never-the-less I am moved to share what I write, be it a part of my personal life; or religious poetry, or political debates; etc... etc... in hopes that someone might find something of interest (or) even something helpful & healing.

I share experiences and discoveries because I've been so blessed and inspired by the un-sung heroes - "Small children with Cancer, MS, or some terrible disease" Yet, they've displayed such an enormous amount of Courage and Wisdom, that I felt so small before them; they've shown me that life is what we allow it to be; we can live in fear and be crippled; or we can embrace life without fear, and live without shackles - No matter who we are, or where we are.

I am grateful for all I've been given!

Love is the law.
Love under will.
