

Happy Holidays and Happy New Year

December 25, 2017

In another week it will be 2018. Have you set down; in did a to do list. Not a resolution because we know from experience they don't work to long for some people. What do I mean by a to do list. For example

What changes I need to make concerning myself?

I am a stern person but not stern enough. I give people too many chances. How many know people will test you, just to see what your going to do. I am working on that now.

One of my ~~goals~~ goals for 2018 was to go to a Spanish class. Well I start Spanish class January 03, 2018. I got Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Second I am getting deeper into my writing. I am bringing some new projects.

Have you thought about what you need to change and do?

Think about it
