

Cynceré & Cyrené

Casting all doubts to the side

Yet skeptical about what you feel inside

Nurturing a friendship so that it may grow

Capturing the mind and heart as your words flow

Etching a place in my heart as time fades away

Realize your feelings are following their own way.

Éxpressing your mind with the words you say.

And

Captivated by the spell that's being cast

Yearning to find a true love that lasts

Rising to the emotions that are beginning to build

Enrapture by the way your knowledge make me feel

Noticing the grip you have on my heart and mind

Évading the potential of love, we'd have to be blind.
