Thank you for your comment^(s) of St Patrics weekend in re my Going-going-Gone blog of 23 Feb. Your P.S. appreciation of the drawing underneath my words, means alot to me.

Let me decipher it for you. "That face is pure calm and contentment", you say you see? You do notice the STOP-sign design behind the head produces the relief (of "contentment") you see, dont you? What I intended to convey in this self portrait, pointing out the checkered Octagonal Hive Design of zeitgeist, is the same face one can observe in most every coffin, i.e. "pure calm". Just imagine 20 yrs in a concrete tomb watching Thought and Memory take flight and circling over the carrion stench of what used to be. OMG! "Transcending zeitgeist" while burried alive - can you imagine? The only other option here was to succumb to the MIA-smic influence so prevalent within penal colonies! Maybe you noticed what word is placed before Meditate, in the dictionary. You see, my STOP-sign relief, really only represents the eye of the storm. Awaking Sleeping Beauty from Mediocrity, that confining matrix of conformity, THAT is how I see my blog of 23 Feb!

The latin derivation of the word Religion, for instance; from religio: Supernatural constraint, perhaps from religare: to restrain. Indicates a Supernatural essence which has become occluded by the proverbial fig leaf apron of Genesis 3:7. Notice my Dictionary of Symbols (Penguin Reference), The fig-tree symbolizes religious knowledge. Alas the matrix of Instrumentalism: a doctrine that ideas are instruments of action - and that their usefulness determines their truth. Its no wonder the word Instrument is derived by the latin, meaning; to arrange, instruct. Thoughts are contagious! Removing the fig leaves sewn into an occluding apron, I AM able to freely stand naked as can be!

Tell me Cal, what do you suppose it looks like - our pure spiritual essence? What exactly are its abilities, as The Creator it is ment To Be? You see, our "mentalistc nourishment" depends entirely upon which Tree of Knowledge one determines as fare, viz: Mentalistic 1: of or relating to any school of psychology or psychiatry that in contrast to behaviorism values subjective data (as those gained by introspection) in the study and explanation of behavior 2: of or relating to mental phenomena.

Compare Supernatural 1: relating to an order of existence beyond the visible observable universe 2a: departing from what is usual or normal esp. so as to appear to transcend the laws of nature b: attributed to an invisible agent (as a ghost or spirit). In contrast to Culture 1: cultivation 2: the act of developing the intellectual and moral faculties esp. by education.

Prometheus robbed Zeus, and was bound by a guilt complex once upon a time. A guilt complex which only Immortality transcends. The Immortal I AM! Imagine the possibilities. For the Love of Truth!
