

2. 4/20/18

"The Battle"

There is a battle that's being fought within me,
The violence so hostile and dangerous I can't breathe,
I can feel the fight and even hear their cries,
Angels and demons, truth and lies,
I can't know whose winning, only feel the pain
I can't even point fingers for I'm the one to blame.
See in life I've led both to believe
Through words, thoughts and actions that each could have me.
But while really wanting Freedom it did not show,
My actions were of evil and I hate how they came to blows,
So I've got to stop this battle raging inside of me,
And reveal what I truly believe.
It's time I stepped in to join this fight
Faith is my shield and love is my sword,
So I rally up the angels or maybe they rally me,
It's time to win this battle and share the victory.

BY: JACK M. BRANCH #R17203
FLORIDA STATE PRISON