Dear Trace,

04-30-18

Happy Beltaine tomorrow! I hope you had a good one.

Thanks so much for your kind words + for the quote - it went into my new official Quote Book.

Yes, the whole thing with Gosh sucked. I just don't understand. But that happens to me a lot.

I am even more broken-hearted, though, by your statement that you need all the hope you can get. I hope that doesn't concern your illness.

I know we don't really know each other, but you seem like such a cool person. I would hate it if you were going through a really rough time.

I know that due to my circumstances it makes it difficult or even impossible to be friends with someone, but as much as I can be I am your friend + I wish only the best for you.

Take care of yourself!

Hugs,
