Kayla,

Thank you for responding to my recent post on Between the Bars.

I do believe you are the first to click on the favorite sign. I'm so very thankful to you for taking time to write me and letting me know you love the writing. I will always strive to be an open and honest writer.

How did you find out about the Between the Bars site? What made you decide to read my post?

Kayla "btw" I hope to write something in the future that makes you want to respond again. Here's something I wrote about my things to do.
