Daoism of Pooh = Balance

I met an amazing woman over the phone a couple months ago. Our conversations left me balanced for the first time in years.

Now she's gone and I wonder, do I need a woman to balance me out?

What about a different kind of balance. If you are wronged, how can you return to your center? Can peace bring you back or is an eye for an eye the only way?

Only Winnie The Pooh has my answers. 😊

But, I'd like to hear other opinions.
