

lost in a dream
where not time
nor distance
nor razor wire
can deny me
these daily strolls
through my mind
where I experience
an extraordinary life
hidden in memories
locked in dreams
pleasure embraces tightly
like an old love
I live the life
of hero and villain
through turbulent times
wandering old cities
to numerous to name
imaginary and real
finding my brothers
my old friends
my old enemies
my true love
sitting^{all} together
late at night
we get lost
in our dreams
to find truth 5/24/18

"There is a real change we will never die, since mortality may be just a technical problem we solve."
