Free Jennifer Gann!

i'm an imprisoned anarchist and trans feminist prison rebel held captive behind enemy lines by the State in California (the occupied Chumash and Native Territories). i've been held as a political prisoner for nearly 30 years!

i need your solidarity and support!
In 2018, i won my appeal in the California Supreme Court for a new hearing and reconsideration of a sentence reduction under California's Proposition 36 - "Three Strikes Reform Act of 2012."

Please call elected state officials to demand my release, write a letter of support for my release to:
Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr.
State of California
State Capitol, 1st Floor
Sacramento, CA 95814
(916) 445-2841

(please send me a copy as well!)

Urge Gov. Jenny Brown to grant executive clemency on my Application for Commutation of Sentence Filed on New Year Day - January 2018.

Thank You! ☺

What is a Political Prisoner?

A political prisoner is defined as a person imprisoned for their political activities, particularly those who oppose or criticize the government of their countries.

What is a Prisoner of War (POW)?

A P.O.W. is defined as a person who engaged in military action and acts in support of and/or defense of freedom.

Jennifer Gann is a pp/pow held in California state prison since 1990. Originally sentenced to seven years for an armed robbery when she was age 21, Jennifer became politicized as a Jailhouse Lawyer and prison abolitionist during the 1991 Folsom Prison Food Strike, and as a result was targeted by the California Department of Corrections prison officials: illegal brutality and torture. Jennifer spent more than a decade in solitary confinement at Folsom and Pelican Bay SHU where she engaged in self-defense and resistance actions sabotaging/breaking prison cell windows and attacking the pigs. Jennifer was subsequently given multiple 25 year to life sentences for "non-serious" felonies after a trial where she was denied benefit of counsel and defense witnesses.

Jennifer is 49 years old and has continued to experience misogynist/transphobic violence by prison guards and inmates, for the past several years, including a 2015 prison riot at Kern Valley State Prison between anti-racist Black & Queer prisoners against homophobic gang members, and a 2016 police brutality incident where she was severely beaten and hospitalized by four male Correctional Officers.

Jennifer has earned 22 college credits at San Bernardino Valley College and Coastline Community College toward an Associate in Arts degree. She has worked in vocational welding class, as a recreation aide in the Enhanced Outpatient Program (EOP), and as a Transgender Coordinator for the Inmate Advisory Council (IAC). Jenni also led a Siddha Yoga class in 2015, and received certificates of completion for therapy groups in Cultural Change and Getting Out by Going In (GOGI). Because of her age, educational achievements and decades in prison, she falls into the U.S. Justice Department's category of the extremely low recidivism rate of roughly 1%. Not only does she not pose a risk to society, Jennifer plans to volunteer work at the TGI Justice Project helping others in her community.

30 years is ENOUGH!!! Jennifer went to prison as a troubled young person, now she is a student, worker, and activist. It's time to bring her home to her mother, sisters, family, friends and community.

Personal correspondence and support letters are welcome. Please visit the Anarchist Black Cross websites and www.junell.org for the latest news on Jennifer and other anarchist political prisoners and POWs. Also check out www.jenichomy.org for news on many other political prisoners/POWs.
