Subject: Howdy

Howdy y'all,

Sorry, I don't have my Quote Book with me right now. I'm at the computer. I'm hoping that BTB gets this and posts it, but this is a new thing and I'm trying it out.

OK....so it's my birthday. I'm old. I've written a post to go out in the mail, but it hasn't quite made it to the mailbox yet. It'll be dated before this one.

My birthday wish is for Health, Peace, and Happiness for all of you and an end to prisons everywhere. This is a screwed-up way of handling things.

I was looking back on my life and it's seriously been insane. What a crazy ride. I have a ton of regrets and missed opportunities--mainly due to my own stupidity. You just have to go on. I have no idea where the next years will take me. I have 9 more years of prison to go, and then what? The streets? Something usually comes up for me. I don't know how or why, but it does. This shit is crazy! What a life.

Anyway, just a short note. I wanted to send a "shout out" on my birthday.

Love and blessings to you all,

kelly
