Destiny

Okay! You melted my heart, and made my eyes leak. I wonder what was going on in your world Oct 14 which got you to leave four messages between the bars.

You're damn-right I can and will help you! What's up? "The way I'm living right now"? — Yup! I think maybe that means... what?

Check this out! The fact that you can admire the "amazing, beautiful, unique, powerful individuals" who made up your gene-pool. I'm pretty sure I get what you're saying. And... imagine the pride I feel to see you admire these distinguishing characteristics in your mom and me. You'll be alright D!

Know this: Everything comes down to CAUSE and/or EFFECT. We do the craziest things TO BE — CAUSE, sometimes. Don't we? I bet Brandon has weaved a few yarns about the games he played — TO BE at CAUSE in this realm of lost hope. Any game where I win is a good game though, in the name of fun.

But when the fier's done — then what? What goes up, must come down! Right? Every step you take D, you determine! You are CAUSE — always.

"Please don't ever let that light within you dim at all," you texted me. The fact you can see it and say it, comforts me. Back at you, baby girl.

What is your CAUSE in life / right now? Your mom put you in my arms and, like a prophetess told me: This one will be the one who makes you... um... 23 years ago is a dim memory now, but

You're my Destiny, dear! You make me "Everything"
I am! And from my point of view you should know how happy it makes me to know how proud you are to Be my daughter. To see you say "I've got a feeling all your hard work will all be worth it soon", is more re-warding than you can possibly ever know.

Pony Express is passing by right now so I want to send this out to you quick as can be so that you'll get it ASAP — with all my love.

P.S.

Dad

Yes, Knowledge v. Wisdom.

Knowing is not enough.

We must Do!

I will write more on that soon, for you to consider.

I wish you all the best in every way!!
