Hello Joe!

I'm glad to see that you actually do check on me here between the bars. It's been a long time since you last posted a comment... so I wonder if Destiny even knows who you are.

I've blogs dated Feb./March 2014 with our photo, and there are a number of your comments on my site - some addressed to Destiny's mother, which may help her understand who sent her this message and why.

I wonder if she knows how many visiting forms I've sent out to Heather - and Yashua, over the years, for them all to get approved. You know: short-term goals toward the long term goal?

It would be great if she was approved to visit by the time you intend to see me again... in the event she needs a ride. It's humbling to have so little control over all this, so I appreciate you making yourself available to help. Thank you.

I'll see you when I see you.
