So glad that you were by my side threw out this stage of sorrow. Even tho i'm up set at myself because you had to see me in that frame of mind, So weak, and torn down. Truly, i don't think i would've made it threw without you. So believe it, or not baby girl (it's Not just your Job). I believe Sometimes your afraid to admit out loud how you feel about me. It Scare's you that you've formed these type of feelings for a man that in a million years you never thought you would. You Know threw out life even in your weakest moments, you Can be at your greatest ~~light~~ flight. It stained my heart to see your face so tired, and to know that i was about to add to your stress. But do believe that (nothing) but a loss of someone close would of made me (Partake) in any form of behavior that would've Cause me to become a addition of frustration, or Restlessness.

(Do believe this) even if you don't believe it inside, your special, and your special to me. No woman has been able to win me over in such away, that you have. Even tho ~~i~~ i Can see you clearly trying to fight us. You always leave room for me to improve, and grow on your heart.

2-OF-2

(I do understand if it's time you need) as you told me that day, you'll open up soon. So i apologize if i've come off to strong. But i've always been the type of guy when i want something, or someone i fight tooth, and nail to get what i want...

I hate that even after you've fought your way out of the abusive relationship you were in, you are still being abused threw these lies, and false rumors that's being spreaded about you. Of course it hurt, it's not true. All it's set out to do is give people a false notion about you.

You look me in the eyes, and told me it wasn't true, and i believe you whole heartedly. You gotta find the strength within your self to be able, and fight off these beliefs of self hate, and unworthyness. I fight so hard for you to open up to me, so we can start together to heal some of your open wounds that live with you on a dialy. Because i know i can help you re-gain your "worth", and ~~title~~ title as a "Queen"

As i come, is how i leave
