- 1 worn by life
drained of strength
and energy
fatigued to the point of exhaustion
- 2 eventually I find
some peace of mind
sometimes after
I go haywire
upside-down
- 3 and sideways
seeing nothing but red
skies outside the hole
that is my window
in a water-color scene
- 4 I gathering enough strength to hold back the walls I'm lost between finding empty canvas
at the end of life
- 5 where is that artist
that once lived
in my mind
painting old memories
before they fade away.
