NOVEMBER IS HOMELESS Youth Awareness Month. Nationally, between 1.6 and 2.8 million youth experience homelessness each year. In California alone, an estimated 200,000 youth under 18 are homeless during the year—15,000 of which are unaccompanied (without adult guardians). Among these, 82.5 percent are unsheltered. Many end up in jail or prison, sometimes the result of homelessness,

“Serenity in the face of adversity; learn the lesson behind the event; master the event itself and do not be content to endure it endlessly; in this manner all happenings become serviceable to him who has conquered his ego and is dictated by wisdom and virtue.” (Epictetus, circa 270 BC)
