

"My Guiding Light"

When we're apart,
I'm ever so restless and alone, knowing you're there on your own, leaves me feeling sad within my heart.

The scent of you lingers in my mind, pleasant ghosts of yesterday's demise, Keeps the moments of our time together alive within - Reminds me of the sparkle of your eyes.

I long to hear your tender voice, and to feel the excitement that comes with you calling my name, if you dared whisper into my ear of your love for me - if it in fact matched mine for you; then my life would never be the same.

If I quiet all the madness within, I can still feel your tantalizing caresses from yesterday, quite paralyzing - How I long to be in your embrace, to see that hypnotizing smile upon your face.

Because of you I am able to rise each day anew, Eager and able to take on each day without delay, each challenge, each trial winnable because of you.
Your beauty, your character such a refreshing sight,
you my Beloved have become My Guiding Light.
