

Irish Song Journal

This old thing ask me the other day if there was anyone I would stand both toe to toe, back to back with. Beside my jeans I smile - James, Tim, Allen, Red, Bobby, Hogan, Larry, all of us have gone toe to toe, back to back - there all gone now so they're only you and me my love. ♡

It is hard to stay positive in this negative place. Sometimes I feel as if someone has set off some claymores around me.

If you keep breathing you might just survive
We all have areas that have to be wiped and no man can escape that

What I really need for better mental and physical health is nutrition, a good night sleep, and pain relief. You beside me on the bed always helps
It's a No-Brainer: Forever ~~ever~~^{ever} is Forever & Ever. ♪
I'm cold and tired and lonely and yours is the only number that I know

'Buy the ticket, take the ride, look for me at the end of the line
People have more in common than they know, Everyone's carrying the same burdens in one way or another and we're all scared of something.'

The only people who still call hurricane acts of God are the people who write insurance forms

I've learned that the best time to argue with someone is when they have food in their mouths. ☺
Can't seem to get into writing - leave I love you here I love you!