

Reply Id: 6h3b

Thank you for the recent post and your candid willingness to want to help. I appreciate that. But alas, no I did not make it. But what's new, you know? I want to pursue something without some type of limits but of course nothing is ever easy. I know that with time without a doubt everything will work out for the best. I will keep this information for use at a later time.