

Date: 4/11/2019 10:18 AM CDT

Subject: Amazon giving

Hello world,

This is a great option for giving I wanted to share. If anyone reading this has any political "position" about religious non-profits, please know I am not sending this with any thought of offending anyone. My personal studies, life, convictions and views of Christianity are my own. My personal opinions about Israel are my own. There are other nonprofits you can choose if either of these religious groups are a sensitive issue for you, friends or any family members.

* God bless America that we can be different, but still love each other. Open to your thoughts?

Out, David

†

Hi everyone. Just read about a great giving program being done by Amazon.

★

Smile.Amazon.com

★

I read about this in my April study that just caught up with me at my new address. It said all options on the web site is identical to the regular site.

*

Every month I receive a great study on Christian history, Israel and Hebrew language from Zola Levitt Ministries. Most of you have sent me books from Amazon and using this web site gives you an option to designate a charity that Amazon will give 0.5% of your purchase toward a charity you choose.

*

Don't know how you select the charity, but if you need one, designating "Zola Levitt Ministries" is the one I would choose. Whichever non-profit you designate is still a great way to encourage companies like Amazon to "give back" a portion of their profit.

*

Just something useful I thought to share with my contacts. wdl