amen 2 the great i am

4 the last week i been able 2 talk 2 1 or 2 family members each day. this brought joy n life 2 my heart; heartwarming !

lord knows ive been prayin 4 this privelege 4 years especially as i witnessed more than my fair share of people cussin out their girlfriend ,mom, sis, wife, grams, etc eavery time they got on the phone. talk bout heartbreaking ne who glad i was able 2 expound on the word of god 2 my mom n bring eternal understanding ,as well as hear hers. amen

at church i was blessed with the opportunity 2 testify 2 gods goodness n how the word reminds us that "the borrower is servant 2 the lender"; that bein the case god dont want us 2 b borrowers cause that leads 2 us becomin servants/slaves 2 those we in debt 2. in prison that takes on a whole new meanin...nuff said so we need 2 rely on god 2 meet all our needs even if that means bein content with what we have. many have went in debt 2 keep up with the joneses.

speakin of which though we can have an even bigger tablet i can do with out. feel me. rather spend the 145 on somethn else as well as the $2 per song n the $3.95 2 rent a movie 4 "one n one half times"

that is all i got

meanwhile i thank joy 4 her prayers

i am we

dear dauhters

my heart n soul telling me u goin thru something. know u could use ur dads presence at a time like this;trust me i want 2 b there - physically just as much as u may want me there...

something is telling me that what u goin thru may be the rsult of makin choices u disagreed with but made cause u felt there was no other way or seemed the most convenient 2 solve the problem/get the pain 2 stop. i get it. who wants 2 keep "bleedin"?

but life has taught me that the 1st choice is not always the best choice. it's most important in life 2 count the cost n even at times 2 go with ur "2nd mind". does that make sense? after all we humans tend 2 favor 'right now' n instant gratification n wantin what we want when we want it. but life is more than that. the consequences of living fast eventually slow us down.

if the problem is a relationship 1 ask urself -is this a relationship that's pleasing 2 GOD? y am i in it? do i want 2 leave but feel compelled 2 stay because of stability ,$,sex,fear of loneliness,roof over my head,etc?

im always tryin 2 get home
