Thank you forever for what information you gave me regarding book publishing information. I would really like to be able to get this published as soon as possible. i have already contacted them via e-mail and via snail mail to find out as much information as i possibly can. i am in the process of doing my own editing so i won't have to pay someone to do it. i am pretty good with grammar and all the punctuational stuff. I appreciate the inforamtyion beyond measure because when i was working with sureshot books they took the enitre manuscript then they sent it baCK to me saying they no longer worked with inmates which to me was stupid and very unprofessional to even accept the manuscript in the first place. I look forwayrd to selling it one day soon. If so, would you have anyone in mind that would support and possibly buy a copy? If so let me know, the more the merrier.
