

Fear and Worry Upon Release, Persecution Ahead pg. 1

Hello everyone, I HAVE BEEN GRANTED PAROLE AND find myself worried about what is going to happen. I will have completed over 15 yrs straight so I really don't know what it's like out there anymore. I have gotten old in here, I was 36 when I got locked up and will be 51 upon release. When I was ^{out} an old homo was a lonely homo. I have picked a couple physical issues that will make it very hard to work and the type of jobs I was good at involved intimidation and hurting others. I refuse to do that anymore so I'll have to figure out a way to live on S.S.D.I. without any side hustles. I'll be living at a halfway house when I get out because I don't know anyone out there and most of them charge between $450.00 to $1000.00 a month. S.S.D.I. isn't even $800.00 a month and I'll also have to pay supervision fees and pay for any programs they make take. So I'll ~~only~~ have less than $200.00 a month left over. How am I supposed to save up enough to rent an apartment, buy shoes and clothes, a dependable car and a computer and the programs to work on my writing?

I'm a sex offender with a violent history so it's pretty much a guarantee that the cops and parole officers are going to give me a hard time. I'm gay so what christian isn't going to tear into me and let me know I'm an abomination? How am I supposed to begin a healthy relationship in second ^{hand} clothes, no car or apartment and no money?

Look, I know fear and worry are tools of the enemy. I trust God but I've already been rejected by several christian programs and organizations because of my charges. I have absolutely no support out there, no friends, no family, no help and a society that looks like it has no intention on giving me a second chance. If ~~any~~ anyone has any ideas, please let me know. God Bless YOU All.
