

①

"Reply ID" Ayx8

05-21-19

Dear Steve,

See here it is the end of May 2019 and I've just a few days ago received your comments through "Between the Bars". If I'd know I'd have replied a lot sooner.

So, let me give you a brief background on me and my current situation. I very much like you are 63 this coming Aug. I've been locked away here at Old Colony Correctional Center at

* One Administration Rd, Bridgewater 02324

for the past 10 yrs. I have wrote my real time address in order that you would be able to contact me directly here.

Have you lived in and around the greater Boston area for long? I ask this because you'd stated you worked for the MBTA. And again "Sorry" for not being aware and responding sooner.

I'm an ole cast off originally from Beacon Hill and the Boston areas in general. I'm assuming that you have read some of my posts attempting to get in touch with my adult children.

This after 25 yrs when I walked out <sup>of there</sup> ~~of~~ life in the fast lane and ended up here.

Please Don't Mind the Spelling. . . .

* PRISON
I.D.
#W88794

of there

(2)

I wish I had something to share on a positive note regarding being in these places. Oh sure I've had alot of time to reflect back on not just the bad but the good aswell. I sometimes think to myself it is those memories that keep me going. Sure I've taken every type of group and class in order to not only pass the time but to learn about myself and the errors of my way. This, of course to allow me to not only be able to look in the mirror putting my thoughts and beliefs stright.

But enough about my misguided youth. I'll share anything you feel necessary to ask in order that you have a clear picture. Me, just having someone out there that may at some point, "CARE" is all I ask. Just know these places are so very hard on ones emotions and out look.

So with that said feel free to write to me here directly or if you not comfortable with that, continue to utilize "T.T.B." Know that I am honest and up front asking only you be the same with me....

Thanks for listening
I look forward to hearing from you.

Be Well
RAY COOKE
#W88794