

HAPPY MOTHERS DAY

Force to be the mother, and father long days at work she came home, and didn't want to be bothered the stree of a black queen she covered it up well yet still seen taken away to prison because she was tryna provide daily we would see her, and i cried never wanting to leave her side she was caged like an animal dressed like a slave treated like a unhuman being this wasn't the life for a Black Queen.

I never knew that she tried to fight for me because the system lied to me forcing me to disbelieve thrown into home after home as they brain wash me how could this be? a Black Prince taken from his Black Queen.

She struggled everyday to be her best taking less so she could feed her family with strained knees, and back stress yet this Black Queen felt blessed.

Daily she would pray for the return of her stray building up new strength everyday to provide a place for her lost son to stay a mother trying to make sure her son felt safe yet after all those years apart he was once again taken away

No longer a boy grown into a man looks more like his father with the strength of his mother Anthony yells out loud for all to hear to my Black Queen i scream, and say HAPPY MOTHERS DAY.
