

YOUR STILL ON MY MIND DAILY

She is gone from around me, and yet my dreams are still of her. I can't just block you out of my mind because you left your imprint on me, and i hate that i can't say hello to you. Everyday i hope to hear your voice, and see your bright blue eyes staring back at me, and at the end of everyday i'm force to go to sleep with just another day without you. You were something else, and brought joy to my dark days, and for that i'll never forget you. Thank you for allowing me to embrace your strength, and willfulness to fight for your worth as a woman. You endured years of pain, and everyday you had a smile on your face, and i believe no matter what you do, and where you go in life you'll now believe that your strong enough to withstand anything that life throws at you.

You were a blessing to me whether you knew it or not, and you gave me the courage i needed to release my true gifts of helping those who need help. Never once did you judge me for my situation, and yet only judged me for the man i am today, and that my queen is a gift very few possess. You know who you are, and what you mean to me nothing else has to be said for my heart at this moment, and forever will always hold a spot for you.

NO KING IS WHOLE WITHOUT HIS QUEEN. A LEO'S STRENGTH COMES FROM HIS PRIDE WHICH IS MADE UP OF STRONG WOMEN WHO FIGHTS FOR THEIR KING WHICH GIVES HIM THE COURAGE TO DEFEND HIS PRIDE.
