

"King for a Day"

Oh how I miss freedom

The simple life

Waiting in a cashiers line places that normal people call pressure

What I'd do for the simple life again

Shopping down the vegetable row squeezing various kinds of fruits and bagging nuts in plastic

I wouldn't be in any hurry

I'd savor the fresh smell

It would be a fun time

Reading the food facts on labels

Making good choices in what I eat

Being able to select real meat

& no soy products

I would be king for a day-

Embracing freedoms
