Jessica,

I received your message in the mail from BtB on 8-6-19 and was left a bit confused by your comment. So I went back through my mail and found the last letter I received from you on 9-10-18. Stapled to it I have the rough draft of the letter I sent you on 10-10-18. Hmmmm???

Things seemed a little confusing for a minute or two, until it dawned on me that back on 2-5-19 I got transferred to a different prison. So, more than likely, you replied to my 10-10-18 letter, but it was never forwarded to my new place of residence. It's been known to happen quite often.

I truly apologize for having not informed you of the change. I'll go into more detail with you later, once I'm sure we've got everything straightened out.

ERIC
