

Love Note

My Dearest Love

8/22/19

You are all my memories of all my yesterdays bringing back our youth were we still dance in the streets and on city sidewalks during pouring rains. As long as we were together there was music playing for everyone to hear and the sun was shining even when dancing in the moonlight after midnight. You are my dreams of today - the touch of your heart keeps me warm on cold winter nights and cools my body on hot summer days. Your dreams comfort my heart during the nights and wakes me with a smile each morning. Your love stays in my heart throughout my days. You are my future, my dreams of tomorrow - just knowing we'll be together again one day in that place in the clouds where all lovers stand together forever playing and dancing, fulfilling their dreams, watching over the ones they love. Even though we don't get to see each other I think of you everyday. I think of you every night, I feel even closer to you as time passes on. There is no need for anything more than your love. From my heart to yours

I Love You Always

Forever + Ever

Your Steve
