Greetings! My Dear Polyglot,

Always a pleasure to receive your commentaries and poetic contributions.

"Sentients" clarified: A gerundival modified adjective serving as a metonymy to label a rare class of humans harmonious in pathos/logos/ethos, while there's too many "insensates" also a gerundival modified adjective.

"Happiness?" I'll chew on my blade of grass and excogitate on the squirrel's dilemma, while I continue

"Waiting For Godot."
