My Dearest Love:

You make me feel as tranquil as a walk through the beauty of a formal garden watching the sunset of a serene summer's evening. We have earned a degree of complacency as our minds grow peaceful in old age. Most morning I sit here with you in my heart and we watch the sunrise together. I have never not enjoyed a sunrise or a sunset with you - some mornings there are dark clouds in the sky but we've learned that they will soon pass maybe leaving behind a little rain water for the flowers to drink. No sunrise is without it's own beauty and all we need to do is look for it with the love from our hearts. In my eyes your love fulfills the beauty in everything. I hold your hands and we walk around smelling the late summer flowers - dreaming of all our tomorrows - I can look back and I can remember the first time I ever saw you and your smile changed the rhythm of my heart forever. It was a summer eve August 22nd, 1963. ♡

I'll Love you always Forever + Ever
your Steve
