one last time

CAVAK

a i was sayin a host on THE REAL mentioned her sayin things she didnt really mean when she was drunk,well her coworker tamara said , "i disagree.."

but the producers didn't let her peace b known its good cause i disagree 2 n got the power 2 speak on it alcohol is basically a truth serum,it causes you 2 not b able 2 "think b4 u speak" so u uninhibitedly "speak ur mind n the heart of ur subconscious " see proverbs 23:29-35. what u say sober or drunk comes from ur heart,no way around it. just we expected by societal norms 2 use tack when communicatin.n 4 datin protocols etc. yet people go out n get knowingly drunk in the name of havin a good time! yet they know they gone say or do somethin they wouldnt say or do sober yet they make alifestyle outta this. know some people who get drunk then call people /b round people just 2 give em a piece of they mind,but when they called on it they quickly say "girl,i was drunk!" i pointed this out 2 an associate n she just smiled while not drunk bout thie revelation of her drunken behavior n her intentionally do it cause noone had the wisdom to call her on it!

nobody wants this tryth in their world view,cause it would leave thm without a scapegoat 4 their behavior mind u in the law alcohol is called WINE N SPIRITS
