Response to Birthday Messages -Tenzin & mdileonardo@peteygreene.org

F.y.i, it's 21 Oct that I was born, 1975. Go nuts astrologers! :)

First, mdileonardo -- I sent you a CorrLinks request, mainly to figure out who you are, 'cause I'm lonely, desperate, & have stalker tendencies...& you did give me your email addy!

Tenzin, at first I didn't get what you meant by "how's your liver doing?" I thought maybe you wanted me to bum you a couple lobes. But, yeah, they pick it clean, & that's a lot of theys! (I don't put out there everything I do, but rest assured you'll only read on here the tip of the iceberg.)

Yes, I can have just about any magazine you decide to order me a subscription to. For me to be allowed individual magazines (if you want to send me old ones you have) they must look new, come from a store/business, with a receipt/invoice. I gave you my address; please make sure anything sent is sent there/here.

What I mean by secular Buddhist is I don't believe in any deities, spirits, nor any afterlife (where my present consciousness lives on), but strive to follow the 8-fold Noble Path, respect the 5 Precepts & 4 Noble Truths. Some Buddhist traditions believe in deities; I'm more aligned w/ the Southern tradition, with some Zen. But, I'm not a "good" Buddhist (if one claims to be a good Buddhist they probably aren't...). Anyway, as part of the Sangha, it's wonderful to hear from you, very wonderful! :)

Sorry to hear how NASA used & tossed your uncle. But the best people too often get such treatment....

Don't worry about my day. I deal with it, then I'll die. The only tears I cry now are for the tragic waste humans inflict on themselves; as I once said to my Zen swami, I'm already dead, just polishing my legacy....Sorry to hear you're practicing back flips down stairs; I must insist you stop that, as I don't have many readers, can't have you croaking because you feel like showing off! (When I have more readers, by all means, impress people!)

I dig quantum physics, studied Krauss's A Universe From Nothing, dabbled w/ Greene's The Hidden Realm/Reality, years ago in a fed Gulag, posted an essay about infinity & the multiverse recently....so, New Scientist will not be over my head. One mag ive wanted to get is American Scientist, if it still is paper published...; it's more detailed than Scientific American, which is also good/inspiring(I write a lot of science, neuroscience in particular stuff for prisonerexpress.org, so prisoners can learn...). So, thanks for whatever you decide to order for me.

Yep, I understood who Prometheus was when I first named my blog. Thanks for educating readers on that! Its been my hope that my blog will attract supergeniuses, so they might weigh in on the prison tragedy that "good" people are so enamored with. (I could join the Prometheus Society, based on the WAIS-3 results, posted here, oh, back in 2012, so I'm a unique waste....); also, I dare to try to pry people out of their muddy ignorance about themselves.....

Appreciate it if you'd share my writings w/ others, especially Buddhists & scientists, artists, writers, basically humans who are being.
Namaste
