"I don't want to die in the pen, Take me away from the state penitentiary & early release me back to my family. I'm in the belly of the beast. No sleep. Praying for peace. Listening to the News on Tv, All I hear is WAR. I just want a little taste of freedom- reunite with my mom & kids. Enjoy life."

Stories of the growing unrest in MDOC prisons statewide have been circulating since the killings of 4 inmates at 3 separate facilities statewide in the last 5 days. While the killings have shed light on what is currently happening in MDOC, there were many signs that unrest was on the horizon as we reported as recently as September of 2019 regarding the state of conditions in the MDOC facilities including at least 2 of the facilities where inmates have been killed. From hunger strikes, to molded food, to raw sewage flooding the cells, to the bodies of inmates who have remained in cells for hours after dying as a result of a lack of healthcare at understaffed facilities – there is much more than what meets the eye as it relates to the circumstances that have culminated in both the deaths of inmates at the hands of fellow inmates and also potentially at the hands of correctional officers and troopers. MDOC claims that the “inmates are under control”, but the issue with the statement is that unless the actual conditions of the inmates change at the facilities, the frustrations the inmates have expressed will still exist. In Other Words, This is Far from Under Control. According to sources with knowledge of the internal ongoing of the current situation in Parchman there are now at least 4 more people dead, 20 injured and the possibility that officers and troopers are shooting with impunity.

An image shared of the state troopers and correctional officers standing outside Unit 29 at Parchman

This is what inmates on lockdown at Parchman were served for dinner last night.

That the inmates that were in Unit 29 (where Walter Gates and Unnamed Deceased were being housed) are now moved to Unit 32. Unit 32 is sometimes referred to as a "Death Trap." Unit 32 is a CLOSED UNIT that has not been utilized since 2010. It is the former Death Row Facility and Was Closed Due to Poor Conditions when the ACLU won a Victory to have it shut down due to the deaths of multiple inmates in the facility.

According to wikipedia: The $41 million unit opened in August 1990, increasing MSP's maximum security bed space by over 15 percent; during that year Mississippi officials said that the prison needed more maximum security space after Unit 32's opening. Prior to Unit 32's opening, MSP had 56 "lockdown" cells for prisoners they designated as difficult prisoners.^[12] By 2003 the American Civil Liberties Union filed a lawsuit on behalf of six inmates, alleging poor conditions in Unit 32's death row.^[87] In 2007 three inmates in Unit 32 were murdered by other inmates in a several month span.^[88] During that year a guard at Unit 32 said that under-staffing contributed to the security lapses.^[88] In 2010 MDOC and the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) reached an agreement to close Unit 32.

Inhumane Conditions Foster Inmates Frustrations

There have been other reported deaths throughout the prisons but are unconfirmed at this time. While many news outlets have been referring to the situation at Parchman as a Riot, Black With No Chaser sources indicate that there has not been a riot and that facts are being misrepresented to media outlets.

blackwithnochaser Fire in MDOC facilities As Inmates Call out For Help

This is a video from Early December 2019 documenting a fire that occurred at one of the mdoc facilities. The video is over 2 minutes long and while multiple fires burned you can hear the alarms go silent as the inmates kick and scream for help from the guards. Since this video a great deal has been happening in the state facilities with 4 inmates dying in 5 days. (Please credit @blackwithnochaser with any redistribution of this video)

First-hand accounts from sources have indicated the reason behind the violence is due to understaffing, poor prison conditions including food quality, rodent infestations, and sewage back ups. According to the sources, these are issues that have gone unaddressed for an extended period of time and prison administrations have ignored the conditions. Additionally, there has been a spike of heroin use within the prison walls and a lack of treatment and mental health resources, according to those with knowledge of the facilities. Factors such as these have fostered justifiable frustrations with inmates in facilities throughout the state, and these derelict conditions, coupled with a lack of oversight, has lead to a precipitous rise in deaths due to neglect, lack of access to proper healthcare, poor diets, and violence and gang activity in Mississippi's prison system.

Coincidentally, just two days prior on December 31st, 2019, MDOC Commissioner Pelicia Hall abruptly resigned amidst the backdrop of the prison system's failures, as well as, the transitioning in of the Reeves administration.

According to a statement released by MDOC per their Facebook page, all prisons have been locked down statewide in an attempt to gain control of the situation. However, inmates say those efforts are futile until prison conditions are improved dramatically.

Currently, Mississippi prisons are severely understaffed. According to MDOC's website, The starting salary for prison guards is right above $25,000 annually making it very hard to recruit and maintain personnel. In addition, standards are low to attain jobs within the state prison system in the first place, often times guards come from the same backgrounds as those who are incarcerated. Reporting on a basis of anonymity, inmates have said many of the guards are gang affiliated as well, and are complicit in the prison infighting. Because the prisons have been on lockdown statewide since Dobbins' death, there are questions arising regarding how access to the other inmates that subsequently have died since Dobbins when the lockdown restricted movement within the prisons throughout the state. These circumstances have given rise to speculations amongst many regarding whether or not access to inmates that have been killed was allowed or simply by happenstance at all 3 facilities.

This is a developing story. Updates will come as we get more information.
