JEALOUSY THE GREEN EYED MONSTER

By Ronald W. Clark Jr

Someone sent my fiancée Clo an email saying I've got another girlfriend. I suspect I know who it was. A jealous ex. Well you lost the battle, you lost the war. You didn't succeed in splitting us up. In fact you strengthened the bond. She knows I'm devoted to her one hundred percent!! No one can produce a letter or email where I've written them as anything other than friends. And "everyone" that I correspond with knows about Clo. No woman is going to come between us. That's the way it is. I only need one woman, I only want one woman. And I've got the perfect woman in my life!!! Couldn't have asked for dreamed up or made a more perfect woman than my future wife Clo! This woman is extremely intelligent! Drop dead gorgeous! Sexy as can be! Great personality!! Loving kind considerate and just an all around magnificent woman!! She isn't with all that arguing and drama. And she knows how to talk. So yes I've got a woman, that I'm surely not deserving of. A woman that is above anything that I could have ever dreamed of having. And the fact that I'm telling the whole world about her, is evident that I don't have want or need a girlfriend. Cause no one will possibly come between her and I!! Yes I've found a jewel! A treasure among treasures! A woman that stands above and beyond any woman that I've ever had! She's a dream, a delight! And I'm truly blessed! And I'm falling for her more each and every day! Yes.... I've found the love of my life! Haters can hate, they can lie deceive and try to implement drama. But its beyond us. So thank you, but no thank you. Cause love, over comes and that drama, someone tried to create, wasn't even a speed bump in our loving relationship. May life bless you with love, and the capability not to hate. God bless you.

In peace love and the eternal love of my baby

Always Ronnie
