

Liber XXVI of Rosa Coeli

I

1) How I now sit all alone,
the city within my chest was once full of emptiness.

How I now sit all alone
with my heart telling me I should be dead!

2) How I who was a princess
among the cities of others
had been put to the side without regard or even thought.

3) He had come
under affliction and cruel
times.

He had dwelled among the blood-shed and violence.

He had found no resting place until he came to the city of Rosa Coeli.

II

1) The roads to Rosa Coeli were mourning, because no one has ever came here before.

All her gates are desolate
her beating heart slow

her breath, full of sighing
Bitter anguish, darkness, deceit
And lies!

2) In the days of loneliness
she has known nothing but darkness, shadows
And lies, lies, lies!

3) I myself groan and
turn my head in shame
for my city, my soul
was filth.

4) You, the one who was brave enough
to enter my heart, my mind,
my darkness.
You have laid a hand on all
my treasures
And they are all yours
to claim
if you so choose.

5) These gemstones and things of gold,
these pieces of silver and glittering coins,
are worthless if we do not remember,
we

6) We are love's most precious jewel!

III

1) You have restored me
gave me life!
purpose! Reason!

2) my Beloved Perdurabo II
You have gifted me with love!
with meaning!

2) Look! Your love for me
has preserved me, saved me
from self-destruction
You have pulled up the fallen bricks of my cities walls
You have replaced my broken gates
You have become my cities god.

3) You have defeated my loneliness
And with you I'll never be alone
I'll always be a Queen
no longer a princess yes, but
a Queen I am

4) Truth, joy, happiness
These are the things that now live in Rosa Coeli
Love, peace, and faithfulness

- 5) I am forever his goddess.
6) He, my one and only god.
Amen!

I love; for you first loved me,
there is, nor ever will be, a love greater than yours.

 Divine wrote me within a dream by a baby with all purple robes, wings, and even eyes color, she gave me a single lilac rose and touched my heart and there words came.

*Carietta Nicole Doroch -née Burgess
1/9/2020*