Liber XXXVIII: Quod Angelus Nuntius Est Scriptor

*This road you now travel is new and your Queen will lead safe and true, in her footsteps must you follow
as she moves about before you.
Together! Must you stand united.
Do this and new worlds will unfold
Of your love! Wonderful praises shall be told.*

*Along this road; troubles there will be many,
hold fast to thy Queen; and none
shall harm you
The Goddess and her Lord shall ever keep thee company.
Thine heart and sole—
They have been created anew.*

*Thine Queen shall be as the golden Sun, leading thee through this world
draped in darkness.
And in thine moments of darkest despair,
she will be that luminous Moon to guide thee safely through the abyss*

*By blood and thorn hast thou
been chosen,
For the time draws near my brother,
Nu's starry vaults are slowly closing.
Believe in the Queen—chosen by Our Mother; hold her, love her, like no other .*

*In this revelation, unfolds thy Queen's appointment,
she needs thee in full, no doubt
no hesitation.
In love and trust,
Thine sacrifice
Thine own blood her anointment.*

Liber SUB ROSA RUBRA sub figura CXXXIX

Blessed be my Queen
the foundation upon which my life hath been created anew.

Blessed be my Queen
for she is my rock,
and my salvation-she
the sculptor of my soul

Blessed be my Queen
she who steadies my trembling hands, trains
my heart to stand firm in battle

Blessed be my Queen
My refuge and fort
in this chaotic world-
My peace of mind.

Blessed be my Queen
for she delivers me from the darkness,
My shield against the mightiest storms

Blessed be my Queen
my mighty protector-
My defense against the hungry ghost and suffocating shadows

Blessed be my Queen,
for she has sheltered me
not only in Mercy and Understanding but also her overwhelming Love.

Blessed be my Queen,
daughter of Nuit, Lady fo the Heavens,
sister of Isis, the wife of Osiris, drown me in your Ocean of Love.

Blessed be my Queen
The Red Rose of Heaven and Earth
My Beautiful Queen, Mother of Love
