Subject: Listen to the language

Are you listening people?

The CV-19 is testing everyone and is revealing our strengths as well as weakness'.

I am amazed and proud of how all Americans are working together to mitigate the death rates. Some people think, "who cares, let it run through and the weak die off. That's life." As Americans we have always stood the moral ground that all life matters. This is showing now, as we all sacrifice our own personal freedoms and savings for the greater good. For the most part, it is voluntary and not forced by government orders.

I am very impressed with the governments work in dealing with this crisis. There are many key players like Dr. Birx, Dr. Fauci, Surg. Gen. Adams and VP Pence. I admire their courage to hold the line and speak truth even if it destroys them later. While the President is doing the required business, are you listening to his words everyday?

Is it not crystal clear that President Trump speaks about America as if "he owns this country as his personal property" ...?

"I did this.."

"I gave that country this..."

"Those are my respirators! You better be nice to me!"

Speaking of Billions of dollars that belong to American Citizens as if it is his personal bank account.

I think a blind person sees this behavior as normal.

It is not acceptable to say, "oh, he's just a businessman."

No, his personal attitude and motives are reflected in his own words. I listen to every speech the President makes as broadcast live. Every time he speaks words of "encouragement and moral standing and the people of America" it is always rote, reading off a piece of paper and you can hear it in his voice that he does not believe his own words.

Trump did NOT build America. The USA is NOT his personal property, is NOT his private company. We are NOT "his" employees.

Please listen to his own words and hear the truth America.

November is your vote for the future.

I dislike the idea of a Democrat running the Whitehouse. I am terrified of a Dictator....
