Dear Will,

07-09-20

If you had been reading my blog, William, you would see that I haven't had my love for some time.

Also, not only is it part of my life, but I thought some people might be interested to read how relationships work (or in my case, don't work), in prison. I also thought they might be entertaining + might spark some interest in some readers.

You, of course, will always be my favorite sweetheart - especially in Houston, Cleveland, and Ft. Lauderdale.

xoxo
